

Jennifer Varano, MPH

Director of Community Health, Volunteer Services and Emergency Management
Saint Francis Memorial Hospital

In her role as the Director of Community Health, Volunteer Services and Emergency Management at Saint Francis Memorial Hospital, Jennifer is responsible for the development and implementation of the hospital's community benefit plan, community benefit reporting, and community grants program. Jennifer is a liaison to the hospital's Board of Trustee's Community Advisory Committee, which oversees the hospital's Community Benefit Plan. She also provides backbone infrastructure, planning, and community outreach support to the Tenderloin Health Improvement Partnership.

Prior to joining Saint Francis, Jennifer developed extensive public health policy and healthcare experience working in hospitals, non-profit organizations and a bipartisan government relations firm in Washington, D.C. Jennifer completed her Bachelors of Arts in Public Health Policy at UC Irvine and Masters of Public Health at UC Berkeley.